Andre L. Beaudoin is a compelling speaker who backs up his poignant words with practical tips and useful insights. I heard him address a roomful of fellow speakers at a large conference and Andre's presentation was the highpoint of the whole weekend. He is able to simultaneously challenge audiences to rethink old paradigms and distill complex ideas into clear and memorable points. Best of all his flair for language and poise at the platform allow him to make it look easy, but the tangible reminders of his leg-braces graphically reinforce that his growth- and ours- requires a positive mind set and a spirited determination to turn what some might see as "handicaps" into fuel for higher achievement.
